FOR SALE—THE YEAR OF 1902 IS APPROACHing a close. Good resolutions are now in order.
Resolutions alone will not secure you a home or give you house rent free. You must obligate yourself to pay your way out as others have done.
How much have you saved from your income in the year of 1902? Is it satisfactory? You need not look for progress in this line unless you obligate yourself to pay a certain sum monthly from your salary. In other words, you must "go in debt." not for luxuries, however, but for something substantial. Buy real estate that is growing in value and this will make a double saving, as you are thereby compelled to save a certain amount monthly in addition to the continual increase in value to your investment. We are offering a safe and profitable investment in the line of 13th and 14th streets extended at North Columbia Heights. (Ask the Washington public if this property is not a safe and profitable investment. Could any reference be fairer?) Lots 25 to 100 feet front. Prices, 30 to 35c. a $20 monthly, or ½ cash, 1, 2 and 3 years. Money loaned to build. For further particulars drop

Judge L. L. Lewis of Richmond, who was recently appointed by President Roosevelt as district attorney for the United States court for the eastern district of Virginia, succeeding Gen. Edgar Allen, will appear in this city for the first time in his official capacity at the session of the United States court which will open here Monday. Judge Lewis has many admirers among the people of Alexandria and his appointment to the attorneyship was gratifying to citizens generally, and especially to those connected with the district and circuit courts. Mr. Hugh Gordon Miller of Norfolk, who was reappointed assistant district attorney, will also probably be present at this session of the court. It is expected that a number of cases for violation of the United States pension and postal laws will be heard. Judge Edmund Wad-

Clarence Anderson, colored, was before Mayor Simpson in the police court this morning on the charge of murderously assaulting Henry Stevens, colored, with a pistol. Anderson, who had been a fugitive since the trouble between him and Stevens about three weeks ago, gave himself up at the police station yesterday. A fine of $50 was imposed, with the alternative of ninety days on the chain gang. Stevens received a pistol wound, but was not seriously in-jured.

Arthur Mankin was up on the charge of assaulting his wife, Mrs. Hester Mankin. The evidence being against him, he was assessed $10, and unless the fine is paid in cash it will have to be settled by thirty days on the chain gang.

A colored man named Joseph Cooper was required to answer the charge of violating the "Jim Crow" law on the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon railroad. It appeared from the evidence that, although technically guilty, he had not wilfully committed an infraction of the statute and he was dismissed. Ferdinand Patton, charged with drunkenness on the street, was sent to the gang for twenty days.

Saturday, May 24, the brigade participated in the parade in connection with the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the monument erected to the memory of Marshal de Rochambeau.
